Adoption

Women who continue the pregnancy to term but cannot take care of a baby may consider adoption. There are agencies that can assist with exploring this decision and agencies to help with the adoption process. Agencies are listed in the service directory.

Service Directory

The decision to have an abortion, have a baby or place a baby for adoption should be carefully considered.

A directory of county and social service agencies and organizations is available from doctors, nurses and counselors and can also be requested by calling the Office of Maternal Child and Family Health at 1-800-642-8522, or online at www.wvdhhr.org.
